14. REPORT:

a. DESCRIPTION OF UNDERTAKING: The sponsor, the Navajo Housing Authority (NHA), requested a cultural resources inventory of a proposed individual lot survey plat of sixty-seven homeownership and public rental units within an existing subdivision tract at Twin Lakes, New Mexico. Also, to construct any future standardize development by modernizing, renovating, and rebuilding burnt units of eighty-four existing houses including the upgrade of any associated facilities. Minimal or extensive ground disturbance, both surface and subsurface, may be expected from the use of heavy equipment. The proposed tract measures 1,729.63 ft (527.19 m) x 490.00 ft (149.35 m) x 1,985.34 ft (605.13 m) x 552.71 ft (168.47 m). The area of potential effect therefore equals approximately 1,414,719.94 sq ft (131,427.48 sq m) or 32.48 ac (13.14 ha). The lead agency for the proposed construction is the Housing Urban Development – Navajo Housing Authority.

b. EXISTING DATA REVIEW: Archival records at the Navajo Nation Historic Preservation Department (NNHPD) indicated that twelve archaeological survey projects (87-034, 88-198, 88-578, 90-062, 90-190, 90-131, 90-613, 96-687, 03-354, 03-354.1, 03-354.2, and 04-1143) have been previously conducted, but no archaeological sites have been recorded, within an approximate 500 ft (152 m) radius of the current project area.

For a relevant overview of the project area, the reader is referred to:

Van Valkenburgh, Richard F.

1974 Navajo Sacred Places. In Navajo Indian III edited by Clyde Kluckhohn, pp. 9-199. Garland Publishing, New York, New York.

c. AREA ENVIRONMENTAL AND CULTURAL SETTING: The proposed project area is located within the Tohatchi Flats of the San Juan Basin at elevations ranging between 6,340 ft (1,932 m) and 6,360 ft (1,939 m) above mean sea level. The area is located approximately 1,000 ft (304.8 km) east of Twin Lakes Chapter House and along south of Indian Route N19. The predominant vegetation in the area includes domestic shade trees, saltbush, rabbitbrush, broom snakeweed, Russian thistle, blue grama, and other various desert land grasses. The surface sediment is a tan sandy clay loam with sandstone outcrops, cobblestone deposits, and imported gravel. Other than small unnamed drainages, the major water source in the area is Black Creek located approximately 1½ mi (2.4 km) northwest of the project area. Dogs and cats were the only domesticated animals noted during the survey; various native birds were the only non-domesticated animals observed. The surrounding area has been impacted by livestock, the development of scattered homesites, NHA housing, business sites, church sites, educational sites, a community cemetery, windmills, water tanks, sewage lagoons, sewer lines, waterlines, powerlines, fence lines, gas pipelines, U.S. Highway 491, Indian Route N19, and secondary roads.

d. FIELD METHODS: The requested archaeological survey was conducted by K.A. Tilden of the Navajo Housing Authority (NHA) on November 14, 2005. The project area has been previously impacted by existing residential area (IUA #1). Once the corners were located, a Class III pedestrian inventory was performed by walking zigzag transects with adjacent points spaced approximately 15 m apart within the proposed project. A 50 ft (15 m) wide cultural buffer zone was added to the four sides of the existing subdivision tract. Thus, the total area inventoried equaled approximately 1,536,161.94 sq ft (142,709.44 sq m) or 35.26 ac (14.27 ha).

Also, as part of the archaeological inventory, a brief interview was conducted in English and Navajo on previous projects with Twin Lakes Chapter House official and local residents regarding Traditional Cultural Properties (TCPs) in and around the project area. In addition, sufficient notes were gathered on the environmental and cultural setting; and for evaluation of the in-use area in and around the survey area.

15. CULTURAL RESOURCE FINDINGS:

a. LOCATION/IDENTIFICATION OF EACH RESOURCE: One in-use area (IUA) was identified during the NHA 05-52 inventory; no other cultural resources were identified or encountered. In keeping with the Navajo Nation's policy to respect the property and privacy rights of its people, the IUA was not fully recorded, but features were noted in sufficient detail to allow for their assessments as archaeological resources. IUA #1 consists of a 1970s NHA homeownership and public rental subdivision area; including sixty-seven beige/gray/tan/maroon stucco wood-frame houses, sheds, wood piles, clothesline, satellite dishes, children play area, abandoned vehicles, travel trailers, trash containers, dog houses, wood/metal scraps, landscaping, domestic shade trees, fire hydrants, paved streets, fence lines, waterlines, powerlines, telephone lines, sewer lines, and gas pipelines.

b. EVALUATION OF SIGNIFICANCE OF EACH RESOURCE (ABOVE): The in-use area (IUA #1) are less than 50 years old and they are not distinctive enough to justify waiving the 50-year age guideline of the National Register of Historic Places. Being less than 100 years old, they do not meet the definition of an archaeological resource as required for protection under the Archaeological Resources Protection Act (ARPA). Some if not all of the existing homes were blessed prior to occupation; therefore, they are considered protectable under the American Indian Religious Freedom Act (AIRFA). However, the sixty-five NHA homeownership and public rentals have all prior requested service, and do not believe the proposed construction will compromise any sacred qualities associated with the homes.

Proposed Guidelines for Treatment of Discovery Situations

In all discovery situations, the existing ground surface in the vicinity of the discovery will be mapped to show the relationship of the discovery to the project area, topographic features, cultural features, and surface artifacts. The map will be prepared using, at a minimum, a compass and measuring tape; at the option of the archaeologist, a transit, a plane table and alidade, or other surveying equipment may be used. Beyond that, specific types of features will be treated as follows.

ASH STAINS: The location will be mapped, the feature will be profiled and photographed, and charcoal fragments will be collected for radiocarbon dating. If it appears that the feature can be dated through radiocarbon analysis, artifacts, or stratigraphy, and if the ash stain is dense enough and dark enough to be likely to yield botanical remains, pollen and flotation samples will be collected and analyzed. At the discretion of the archaeologist, in consultation with NNHPD, radiocarbon samples will be analyzed.

HEARTHES: The location will be mapped, the feature will be profiled and photographed, and charcoal fragments will be collected for radiocarbon dating. If it appears that the feature can be dated through radiocarbon analysis, archaeomagnetic, artifacts, or stratigraphy, and if the ash stain is dense enough and dark enough to be likely to yield botanical remains, a flotation sample will be collected and analyzed. Since burning destroys pollen, no pollen samples will be taken from hearths. At the discretion of the archaeologist, in consultation with NNHPD, radiocarbon samples will be analyzed.

MIDDENS: The location will be mapped, and the feature will be profiled and photographed. Charcoal fragments will be collected for radiocarbon dating. Pollen and flotation samples will be collected and analyzed. If natural stratigraphy is present in middens, samples will be collected according to natural stratigraphy, not from arbitrary levels. In order to recover data on the stratification of artifacts in the midden, at least one 1 m-by-1 m column, located immediately adjacent to the area disturbed by construction, will be hand excavated in levels no greater than 10 cm thick, and all excavated fill will be screened through mesh no larger than ¼ inch. Auger holes will be placed every 2.5 to 5.0 m along the unexcavated portion of the right-of-way for a sufficient distance to define the boundary of the midden and to ascertain whether or not additional features are present. Because middens are generally associated with substantial occupations and other features, consultation with NNHPD, the BIA, and the SHPO will be required after the initial recording has been completed.

PIT HOUSES AND BURIED SURFACE STRUCTURES (PUEBLOS AND FIELD HOUSES): The location will be mapped, and the feature exposed will be profiled and photographed. Charcoal fragments and any wood samples will be collected for radiocarbon and dendrochronological analysis. Charcoal and wood samples of adequate size and quality will be submitted for dendrochronological analysis; charcoal will be radiologically analyzed only if the feature cannot be dated by other means. Pollen and flotation samples will be taken from the floor, subfloor pits, hearths, and other appropriate contexts, and will be analyzed.

Auger holes will be placed every 1.5 to 5.0 m along the unexcavated portion of the right-of-way for a sufficient distance to define the boundary of the feature and to ascertain whether or not additional features are present. Because dwellings usually yield substantial amounts of significant information, and because they are usually associated with other features, consultation with NNHPD, the BIA, and the SHPO will be required after the initial recording has been completed. In general, however, additional excavation of these types of features (beyond the initial recording described above) will occur only if the feature is likely to sustain additional damage from erosion, additional construction, or maintenance.

PREHISTORIC BURIALS: Prehistoric burials will be completely excavated, mapped, profiled, and photographed. Charcoal, pollen, and flotation samples will be collected as appropriate from the burials and associated artifacts and features. Charcoal will be submitted for analysis if the burial cannot be dated by other means. Pollen and flotation samples will be analyzed, along with skeletal remains and artifacts.

HISTORIC AND UNDATED GRAVES: The Navajo Nation burial policy will be followed in these cases.

Except for items associated with burials and graves, all materials recovered from discovery situations will be curated by NNAD for the Navajo Tribal Museum. Human remains and grave goods will be treated in accordance with the Navajo Nation policy on burials and human remains.

Re: Four Modernization Projects

Dear Ms. Kyselka:

As mentioned in the Resolution of the Resources Committee of the Navajo Nation Council (RCMA-34-03) under Exceptions, project activities within a previously withdrawn area do not require a Biological Evaluation Report. Navajo Housing Authority is conducting an environmental analysis pursuant to the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) for the development of an environmental document. The purpose of this scoping letter is to provide your office with project-specific information, and to obtain concurrence with our determination that the project will have no effect on Threatened & Endangered Species.

The proposed undertaking will involve modernization in the form of either renovation activities or demolition/reconstruction activities of existing homeownership and public rental units including the upgrade of any associated facilities i.e. street, utilities and perimeter fencing. Within the leased area, there are instances where vacant lots exist and NHA intends to fill these vacant lots with either homes or playground areas for youth. NHA will continue all maintenance activities within the subdivision. Other activities that will occur include individual lot surveys and individual lot fencing for clientele master leases. Finally, during construction activities, a temporary fenced construction yard will exist within the leased area. The yard will contain storage of materials and machinery. Minimal or extensive ground disturbance, both surface and sub-surface, may be expected from the use of heavy equipment.

RE: NAVAJO HOUSING AUTHORITY PROJECT NO. NM15-30
Twin Lakes, NEW MEXICO

Dear Ms. Yazzie:

The Navajo Housing Authority (NHA) has several subdivisions that were constructed on Tribal trust lands in the 1960's or 1970's to meet the housing needs of the Navajo people. Some of these housing projects were constructed on lands not properly withdrawn and upon which no valid lease were obtained. The NHA is desirous of obtaining valid leases concurrent with Federal and Tribal guidelines for the purpose of completing Title Conveyance/Transfer of Interest to the respective homebuyers and for site control of the subdivision tract.

The Navajo Housing Authority, Realty and Title Department has enclosed a set of proposed Master Lease for Navajo Housing Authority Project NM15-30 that is located within Twin Lakes Chapter, Fort Defiance Agency. This lease request is for an existing Navajo Housing Authority SubDivision with 30 Public Rental Units.

Enclosed are four sets of the proposed Master Lease for final processing and all supporting documentations and maps are enclosed:
