TRACKING NO. 0218-15

AN ACTION

RELATING TO LAW AND ORDER, NAABIK'ÍYÁTI' COMMITTEES AND NAVAJO NATION COUNCIL; AMENDING TITLE 7 SECTIONS 421-424, JUDICIAL CONDUCT COMMISSION

BE IT ENACTED:

Section One. Findings.

- A. The Law and Order Committee of the Navajo Nation Council, pursuant to 2 N.N.C. § 601(B)(14), reviews and makes recommendations to the Navajo Nation Council proposed amendments to the Navajo Nation Code.
- B. The Naabik'íyáti' Committee of the Navajo Nation Council, pursuant to 2 N.N.C. § 164(A)(9), reviews proposed legislation which requires final action by the Navajo Nation Council.
- C. Enactments of positive law must be reviewed and approved by resolution by the Navajo Nation Council. 2 N.N.C. § 164(A).
- D. The Law and Order Committee's purpose is "[t]o improve the administration of justice on the Navajo Nation by ensuring a justice system that is independent from political influence and that is accountable and responsible to the Navajo Nation in its administration and operations. The justice system includes the Judiciary Branch...." and "[t]o protect the rights and interests of the Navajo People by improving the quality and effectiveness of the justice system within the Navajo Nation. 2 N.N.C. § 600 (C)(1) and (2) (2012) see also CJA-03-13.

E. The Navajo Nation Council gave the Law and Order Committee legislative oversight over the Judicial Conduct Commission. 7 N.N.C. § 424 (2009) see also CJA-03-1, 22nd Navajo Nation Council, sect. 5(C), 30 (2013).

F. The Navajo Nation Council established the Judicial Conduct Commission “[t]o enhance public confidence in the Navajo Nation Judiciary by providing fair, impartial and expeditious forum to hear complaints and grievances against Navajo Nation Justices and Judges involving alleged violations of the Code of Judicial Conduct, personnel policies for Justices and Judges, and any other Navajo Nation laws or policies that set standards of ethics and conduct for Justices and Judges.” 7 N.N.C. § 422 (A)(1) (2009).

G. The Judicial Conduct Commission is inactive and has been for several years.

H. The Law and Order Committee believes reconstituting the Judicial Conduct Commission is necessary in order to improve the administration of justice, improve the judicial quality and effectiveness, and protect the Navajo People’s rights and interest. 2 N.N.C. § 600 (C)(1) and (2) (2012) see also CJA-03-13.

Section Two. Amending 7 N.N.C. §§ 421-424

The Navajo Nation hereby amends the Navajo Nation Code, Title 7, §§ 421 - 424 as follows:

Title 7. Courts and Procedure
Chapter 3. Judicial Branch
Subchapter 11. Judicial Conduct Commission

§ 422. Purposes and powers

A. The purposes and powers of the Judicial Conduct Commission are:

4. To forward recommendations for suspension or removal of Justices and Judges to the ~~Judiciary~~ Law and Order Committee and to the Chief Justice.

1 C. The Judicial Conduct Commission shall develop and recommend its Plan of 2 Operation, rules, policies and procedures, and operating budget, for approval by the Judiciary

- 15 4. Certain other acts. Any act that is a felony in the jurisdiction where 16 committed, or any act involving moral turpitude that is a misdemeanor in 17 the jurisdiction where committed.
- 18 5. A vacancy in the Commission, whether caused by death, removal, term 19 expiration or resignation shall be filled by an interim appointment to 20 complete the vacated term made in accordance with 7 N.N.C. §423(A)(1)
21 and (2).

22 D.B. Personnel. The Judicial Conduct Commission shall receive administrative 23 support and assistance from the Judicial Branch of the Navajo Nation and shall hire personnel
24 and approve Commission expenditures as provided for in the Judicial Conduct Commission Plan
25 of Operation and the Navajo Nation operating budget.

26 27 § 424. Legislative oversight

28 The Judicial Conduct Commission shall operate pursuant to a Plan of Operation and 29 policies and procedures recommended by the Judicial Conduct Commission and approved by the 30 ~~Judiciary~~ Law and Order Committee of the Navajo Nation Council.

2 Section Three. Codification

3 The provisions of the Act which amend or adopt new sections of the Navajo Nation Code
4 shall be codified by the Office of Legislative Counsel. The Office of Legislative Counsel shall 5 incorporate such amended provisions in the next codification of the Navajo Nation Code.

7 Section Four. Savings Clause

8 Should any provision of this Act be determined invalid by the Navajo Nation Supreme 9 Court or the District Courts of the Navajo Nation, without appeal to the Navajo Nation Supreme 10 Court, the remainder of the Act shall remain the law of the Navajo Nation.
11

12 Section Five. Effective Date

MEMORANDUM

TO: Honorable Kee Allen Begay
23rd Navajo Nation Council

FROM:
Carolyn R. West-Taylor, Attorney
Office of Legislative Counsel

DATE: June 25, 2015

SUBJECT: OLC Service Request No. 15-473-1: An Action Relating to Law and Order, Naabik'iyáti' Committees and Navajo Nation Council; Amending Title 7 Sections 421-424, Judicial Conduct Commission

As requested, I prepared the above-reference proposed resolution and associated legislative summary sheet. Based on existing law and review of documents submitted, the resolution drafted is legally sufficient. However, as with all legislation, the proposed resolution is subject to review by the courts in the event of challenge. You are encouraged to review the proposed resolution to ensure this is drafted to your satisfaction.

NOTE: The Navajo Nation Supreme Court stated the Navajo Nation Council, through CD-68-89, made promises to the People in the Whereas and Resolved clauses and those clauses bind the hands of future Navajo Nation Councils. Shirley v. Morgan, SC-CV-02-10, slip op. at 25 (Nav. Sup. Ct. May 28, 2010). Important to this proposed resolution is that "[t]he Navajo Tribal Council further authorizes and directs that any amendment to the...1985 Judicial Reform Act, 7 N.T.C., Section 101 et. seq., shall require a two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) vote of the full membership of the Navajo Tribal Council [and]...these amendments shall be presented at the regular session of the Navajo Tribal Council." CD-68-89, resolved clause 6 (1989). Here, the Judicial Conduct Commission is not a part of the 1985 Judicial Reform Act, the Navajo Nation created the Judicial Conduct Commission in 2003. CO-72-03. Therefore, the $\frac{2}{3}$ vote and the regular session requirements do not apply to this proposed legislation. The vote requirement is majority vote and the proposed resolution can be acted on in a special session.

If you are satisfied with the proposed resolution, please sign as “Primary Sponsor” and submit to the Office of Legislative Services where the proposed resolution will be given a tracking number and sent to the Office of the Speaker for assignment.

If the proposed legislation is unacceptable to you, please contact me at the Office of Legislative Counsel and advise me of the changes you would like to make.

Memorandum

TO: Honorable Delegates
23rd NAVAJO NATION COUNCIL

FROM: Karen Francis, Government Relations Officer
JUDICIAL BRANCH OF THE NAVAJO NATION

SUBJECT: Proposed Legislation No. 0218-15

DATE: June 30, 2015

I am submitting the following public comment on proposed Legislation No. 0218-15.

First of all, it should be noted that this legislation was developed without any input from the Judicial Branch. Because of the lack of consultation, the Navajo Nation Judicial Branch is submitting its concerns regarding the proposal to change the membership of the Judicial Conduct Commission.

A. VAGUE QUALIFICATIONS

The language that defines the qualifications is extremely vague, stating, "An appointee is qualified based on education, experience, or office." This language does not clearly articulate a minimum competency requirement. Questions arise regarding the type and/or level of education, how much and what kind of experience, and what kind of office meet the qualification requirement. Further, the use of the word "or" implies that only one of these qualifications needs to be met for appointment. Under this language it would be theoretically possible for literally anyone to be appointed as a Commissioner charged with the critical and decisive duty of recommending the suspension and/or removal of a Navajo Judge or Justice and for the entire body to be composed of Commissioners with absolutely no experience in legal or court matters.

It cannot be recommended strongly enough that membership in good standing with the Navajo Nation Bar Association be restored as a minimum qualification for at the very least a majority of prospective commissioners. The current law requires that the Navajo Nation Bar Association appoint two members of the bar association to the Commission. These two members practice or have practiced before the judges, and are familiar with the justice system, the role of a judge and the Professional Rules of Conduct. To exclude the members of the bar association from the commission would take a voice away from the professionals who regularly appear before the judges and justices on behalf of the Navajo people.

For the sake of diversity and with an understanding and respect for the knowledge and experience that comes with the positions, it is also recommended that part of the Commission be composed of a retired Navajo Judge or Justice, as is the current law, and a Peacemaker rather than a judge or justice from an outside jurisdiction. The appointment of a federal or state court judge to the Judicial Conduct Commission has been a very difficult position to fill and does not convey that we are a sovereign Navajo Nation with our own laws and dispute resolution system, but that we are looking to outside jurisdictions to investigate and recommend discipline on our Judges and Justices.

B. POTENTIAL FOR POLITICAL INFLUENCE

The proposed legislation states that the purpose of the Law and Order Committee is to ensure the justice system is independent from political influence, yet the Law and Order Committee and the President of the Navajo Nation are proposed to be the only ones who will have the authority to appoint the membership of the Commission with confirmation by the Navajo Nation Council's Naabikiyati Committee. These are considered to be political bodies and give the impression that the Judicial Branch itself is turning into a political body as opposed to an independent governmental body free from politics.

The use of the term "office" in the section on qualifications also brings concerns that politicians or elected officials could theoretically be appointed to the Commission. This would be contrary to ensuring an independent judiciary and the need to eliminate undue political influence.

C. BRANCH HAS NO PART IN SUPERVISORY ROLE GIVEN TO COMMISSION

The Judicial Conduct Commission was first established internally within the Judicial Branch through the judicial conference to assist the Chief Justice with handling complaints against Judges and Justices. 7 N.N.C. § 371 states that the Chief Justice "shall supervise all Justices and Judges of the Navajo Nation and administer the Judicial Branch in accordance with applicable standards, rules, policies or procedures." Supervision typically includes the role of taking disciplinary action if necessary. Eliminating the Judicial Branch's authority to appoint members to the Judicial Conduct Commission prevents the branch from taking part in this important aspect of supervision if complaints get referred to it and undermines the principles of separation of powers previously instituted in current law.

D. UNFUNDED MANDATE

Judicial Conduct Commissions often have a budget and staff members to accomplish their goals. Before Fiscal Year 2015, the Judicial Conduct Commission was largely an unfunded mandate. The Navajo Nation Council approved a supplemental appropriation of $100,000 for the Judicial Conduct Commission in FY 2015. However, supplemental appropriations are often one-time funding. The Judicial Branch is not able to absorb the additional $100,000 in the FY 2016 budget.

In researching similar commissions of the states of Arizona, New Mexico, Utah and Colorado, the judiciary appoints judges (six in Arizona, four in New Mexico, two each in Utah and Colorado) and the bar associations also appoint two members (except in Colorado where two lawyers are appointed by the Governor). These commissions also include members of the public appointed by the Governor. In Arizona and Utah, the Governor appoints three members of the public. In Colorado, the Governor appoints four and in New Mexico, the Governor appoints seven. Only Utah has four members of its Commission appointed by legislators. Furthermore, oftentimes, it is the case that amendments to these commissions are approved by the voters of the state. This information is provided for sake of comparing the membership and appointing authorities of other judicial conduct commissions.

The acting Chief Justice Eleanor Shirley had already called for a special judicial conference prior to this legislation being introduced with the express purpose of discussing the Judicial Conduct Commission and seeking recommendations for appointments by the Judges of the Navajo Nation Courts under current law. This special judicial conference is to take place July 2, 2015. Once the Judges and Justice make their recommendations, staff may contact the nominees to determine if they are willing to serve and, subsequently, a selection by the Judges and Justice may take place. The acting Chief Justice has also written to the Navajo Nation Bar Association asking for its appointees to the Commission to be selected.

In conclusion, the recommendations for the Judicial Conduct Commission include:

1. Replace the sitting or retired federal or state court judge with a Peacemaker to be appointed by the Judges and Justices of the Navajo Nation.
2. Consider increasing the number of members of the public on the Commission to allow the oversight committee and the President to make appointments.
3. Increase funding to the Judicial Branch to provide a budget for the Commission.

Thank you for the opportunity to submit public comment.
