Dear President Nez,

I am writing this letter of interest for the Commissioner of the Navajo Nation Telecommunication Regulatory Commission position. I received the job description from Christopher Becenti. I have included a cover letter and my resume.

I believe that I would be a good fit for the Commissioner of the Navajo Nation Telecommunication Regulatory Commission position due to my intimate knowledge of working as a NM Real Estate agent and my time as a Retail Sales Manager at AT&T. Some of the skills that I exhibit that are quintessential to being an effective Commissioner include patience, organization, ability to communicate, work effectively and efficiently, with the capability to connect with people and work with different personalities. During my time as a licensed NM real estate agent, I have also become familiar with purchase agreements, reading surveys, understanding easements and right of ways. I am currently the 2019 President of the Gallup Board of REALTORS and was Vice President for the Gallup Board of REALTORS in 2018. During my time as VP and President at the Gallup Board of REALTORS, I have learned how to conduct executive and general membership meetings, inducting new members, creating and reviewing budgets and treasury reports for our board. I have been working closely with Amparo Usrey for the past 2 1/2 years. Amparo is also a NM licensed qualifying broker, who has sold over $24 million dollars in real estate in her 5 years, which has allowed me to learn and experience different types of real estate transactions. During my time with Amparo, I have also helped her open her own brokerage. This has allowed me to learn more about the back office set ups, learning more about the NM real estate commission laws in regards to opening a real estate brokerage, obtaining business licenses and other required licenses to open a business. I have made beneficial relationships and maintained them with our vendors and contractors. I have also worked tirelessly to develop relationships with fellow REALTORS in order to increase my knowledge and resources to aid me in my career and business.

I appreciate your time and consideration. I will be available for an interview after the 18th of September, 2019. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Christina Tatsukawa
